REMEMBRANCE DAY

"IF YE BREAK FAITH WE SHALL NOT SLEEP"

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow
A grey mist hovers like a changing wraith;
And voices bring a cry from out the mist;
"We sleep not, Comrades! do ye keep the faith?
They gave their lives to make a better world,
Safe for the old, the helpless, and the young—
Safe for that wider brotherhood of man;
What of that victory so dearly won?
What is this foe with whom we keep the quarrel?
What is the conflict that we must suppress?
What but the idol in the market-place—
The symbol of a nation's selfishness!
Is this remembering, that day by day
They who were with "them" falter to our doors—
Begging their humble stint of daily bread—
The heroes—nay, the victims of our wars!
That day by day they toil the weary roads,
While little children starve, and women sigh;
Our granaries overflow with golden grain!
"What say you, Comrades? Is the torch held high?
Far on Olympus, how the Gods must laugh!
"The larks still sing; the morning comes anon;"
We hoard the golden grain—and fling the shaft!
"The poppies flourish—but our rest is gone!"

Refused Entry To Germany

Noted Singer Barred On Account Of Jewish Ancestry

Madame Schumann-Heink, born in Germany, has been refused permission to visit her homeland. That is difficult to imagine when it is remembered that, during the war, the great singer made many enemies because of her allegiance to the cause of the central powers, in spite of the fact that she had sons fighting on both sides. Born in Germany, she always was proud of her nationality, indeed her pride caused her much hardship during the war years. Madame Schumann-Heink, who is a Catholic, had been notified that she cannot visit Germany, her real crime consisting in the fact that she has one grandnephew who was a Jewess. One of six nieces had Jewish blood in her veins, and that prevents the return of Schumann-Heink to the land of her birth. So all her patriotic and work for her native land are rewarded by the final insult—being forbidden to revisit her native land. They are doing many stupid things in present-day Germany.—Niagara Falls Review.

Hazing Is Banned

Practice Is Not Permitted In Saskatchewan University

"Hazing of freshmen is not permitted in initiation ceremonies at the University of Saskatchewan," stated "Bob" Murray, president of the student representative council, commenting on the heavy damage verdict against the University of Alberta for mental injury to a freshman in such proceedings.

Mr. Murray explained that certain dress regulations were prescribed by the students' organization for freshmen, largely that they might recognize each other and acquire a feeling of fellowship. The most important reason of initiation, however, consisted of the arrangement for the performance of some work, usually for the improvement of the university campus.

"More drastic forms of initiation have passed out at most of the universities in Canada," he added. The question had been discussed by the National Federation of Canadian University Students. That body favored a system of initiation but without any drastic form, he concluded.

England Has Right Idea

John Bull's Objective Is To Keep Everything Moving

Americans, apprehensive of inflation, are reported shipping their dollars to England and Canada, where they do this as fools. They should keep their money at home.

There is nothing wrong with Uncle Sam's dollar in the world. It has behind it a greater per capita wealth of money and food and raw materials and technological production capacity than any dollar on earth.

The truth is that Uncle Sam and his citizens, while rich in natural wealth and productive capacity, are poor in psychology and philosophy. They are poor in the sense that they are shortsighted, and in life, in losses and reverses are all part of the game. Wise old John Bull, rich in experience and philosophy, grew wealthy by taking losses; England's objective was to always keep the game or the business or the country going.—Vancouver, B.C. Sun.

Helen E. Kimball's Recipes

New Cake Frostings By Director, Food Service Department, Boston

Among the most interesting recipes which have been evolved recently are those which are being put on the cake. They're very easy to make and are extremely delicious. The finished cake will thrill you. The basic recipe is in these recipes.

First, in these recipes, the use of condensed milk which is pure whole milk and cane sugar cooked down to a richness that is almost of a frosting consistency as it comes from the can. It needs no cream or other simple ingredients for a perfect frosting. As you know, the frosting is then spread on it. Place the cake on a cookie sheet, or if you have frosted the sides use the pan in which the cake was baked and brown delicately in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit). The cake will dry out as might be supposed because it is spread with moist frosting on all sides. Be sure and watch the cake carefully while it is in the stove for sugar mixtures. As you know, burn rather easily.

COOKING BOILED KING

Half cup sweetened condensed milk; 1 tablespoon butter, melted; 1 tablespoon brown sugar; 1 cup shredded coconut. Combine all ingredients and blend thoroughly. Spread on cake. Place very thin in broiler under a slow flame. Broil until the cake bubbles all over and the surface becomes light brown. Remove from broiler and cool.

Further recipes will appear in later issues.

Business On Cruise's Island

The coconut consignment was taken to Port of Spain, Trinidad by coastal steamer for trans-shipment to England.

Across Africa In "Baby" Car

Two Englishmen Made Trip In 185 Days Including Delays

Alastair Kirk and Kaiter Kay have just completed a journey from Liverpool, England, to Cape Town, South Africa, in a "baby" automobile. They covered 13,770 miles in 185 days, including delays.

When they crossed the Sahara they were accompanied by a native "pilot," in accordance with demands of French authorities, and part of the way by "buses" carrying mail and guns for protection against the way-laid Faure's raiders. The distance across the desert is 850 miles, and the temperature was scorching. The troubles caused Kirk and Kay to make a detour of 1,600 miles from Tangier, where they were told fighters had closed the direct road south of Fez.

Canada Pays Less For Coal Than Other Countries

Canada enjoys lower coal prices than most other countries forced to import coal. Sir Alfred Coe, president of Amalgamated Anthracite Coaleries, of South Wales, testified in Quebec at the continued trial of iron of king's bench of six coal companies charged with forming a combination to maintain the price of coal.

"Canada imports her coal in summer white prices are low while most other countries import during the high-price winter season," Sir Alfred stated.

Household Drudgery

The Bane of a Woman's Life

MILBURN'S HEALTH NERVE PILLS

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman have good health when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. "I'll say wonder she becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night."

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's Health Nerve Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the much desired health.

The Hudson Bay Route Again

The Financial Post of Toronto, that uncompromising opponent of the Hudson Bay Railway, has taken note of the article which appeared in this column some weeks ago in which we took exception to the attacks made by this Eastern financial paper on this great national scheme to provide the prairie west with an ocean port somewhat nearer to its great productive areas than Montreal in the east and Vancouver in the west. It will be recalled that The Financial Post condemned the Bay route in toto, declaring that the railway should never have been built, that it was nothing but a contractor's racket, and that having been built and having failed as an elevator provided, it should now be completely abandoned. It criticized the granting of free elevator rates to the Hudson Bay route as a "political failure," "a hybrid of a white elephant and a political sacred cow," and so forth, and so on.

We have no particular desire to enter into any extended controversy with The Financial Post, and it is gratifying to note the much more moderate tone of its later article and the almost apologetic manner in which it seeks to defend its attitude. It repeats its advice of the complete abandonment of the route. However, it does continue to belittle it and to argue that it is economically unsound and cannot ever hope to be a success. It repeats its unsupported charge that the building of the railway was "a plain ordinary contractor's racket," whereas in reality it should have been opposed by all good citizens, wherever resident in Canada.

The Hudson Bay Railway was not a contractor's racket. Some of the old Mackenzie and Mann enterprises, notably the building of a line paralleling the C.P.R. around the north shore of Lake Superior, might be so designated perhaps, but it was not a group of contractors but the people of Western Canada who demanded the building of the Hudson Bay Railway. Some money was wasted in switching the original route from Churchill to Nelson, but sound business reasons alone influenced the switch back again to Churchill. Not racketeering contractors, but the best harbor expert in the world was responsible for the Hudson Bay route.

It is a fact that the Hudson Bay route is now 20 years younger than the C.P.R. and it is a fact that the Hudson Bay route is now 20 years younger than the C.P.R. and it is a fact that the Hudson Bay route is now 20 years younger than the C.P.R.
